

PRESS RELEASE

February 10th, 2013

Q-TEC, INC.

“HARLOCK: SPACE PIRATE” (2D-3D CONVERTED BY Q-TEC) NAMED BEST INTERNATIONAL ANIMATED FEATURE AT THE 5TH 3D CREATIVE ARTS AWARDS

Q-TEC, INC. (Headquarter: Minato-ku, Tokyo, CEO: Toru Kajio) proudly announces that “Harlock: Space Pirate” (Production Company: Toei Animation Co.,ltd / Director: Shinji Aramaki) won the top prize in the “International Feature –Animated” category of the 5th annual 3D Creative Arts Awards hosted by the International 3D and Advanced Imaging Society and held at Warner Brothers Studio in Los Angeles, United States, on January 28th.

Q-TEC provided its 2D-to-3D conversion technologies and services for “Harlock: Space Pirate” and this prestigious award was presented to the company for such contribution and achievement. Kunihiko Mita and Yumiko Abe, stereoscopic 3D directors of Q-TEC, participated in the award ceremony along with Mr. Shinji Aramaki, the director of the film, and accepted the honor.

The International 3D & Advanced Imaging Society was founded in the United States in 2009 and has been joined by more than 400 companies and organizations associated with the arts and technologies of stereoscopic 3D and advanced imaging contents and engaged in various activities including educational and award events throughout the world.

The International 3D & Advanced Imaging Society
<http://www.international3dsociety.com>

With its internationally acclaimed 2D-to-3D conversion technology, Q-TEC will continue to propose its high quality post-production services for 3D theatrical films around the world.

---

For more information about this press release, please contact Q-TEC, INC at e-info@qtec.ne.jp